(Discuss the relationship between Functions of Management and function of project)

(ناقش العلاقة بين وظائف الإدارة ووظائف المشروع)

As per many business studies has confirmed, the relationship between Management Functions and Project Functions is essential, vocal and primer.

Hereinafter, a definition of the relationship between Management Functions and Project functions is discussed as follows;

Firstly, the 1st Management Function is Planning, which is related to an adequate sequence of certain steps and tasks in which the Project objectives are explored along with the approaches of achievement. Without a proper plan, a project can be critically threatened by failure. The 2nd Management Function after that is Organizing, where all sources of requirements are assembled and coordinated. As every project demands certain levels of financial, human, informational needs that may cause multiple inconveniences if were not met. Moreover, the 3rd Management Function and that is considered an essential function between all is Leading, as any team assigned to a project requires enthusiasm, communication, motivation and proper mentoring in order to perform their duties in the right way and accomplish desired project outcomes. Last but not least, the final Management Function is Controlling, which is all about setting a performance yardstick against in which the actual performance will be measured, compared and finally corrected. In a project, controlling is considered crucial throughout the whole project timeline, that is in order to avoid events of re-work or mistaken results.

On the other hand, the Project Functions that are categorized into Product, Marketing, Human Resources and Finance are all related with certain Management Functions. As previously discussed, the Management Function of Leading has a connection to employees' performance and achievements, which by itself immediately affects the Project Function of Product. Also the Management Function of Controlling that is concerned with setting right performance standards and taking of corrective actions is effecting the Project Function of both Finance and Human Resources, as if Controlling action did not take a place, multiple re-work situations will appear and that will immediately demand further Human Resources involvement and higher extension of Financial budgets that were previously finalized.

There could be multiple dimensions in discussing the relationship between Project Functions and Management Functions, and here above is my point of view of how this relationship is bounded and related.
