PROJECT LEADERSHIP

MOHAMMED BIN SALMAN BIN ABDULAZIZ AL SAUD (MBS)
CROWN PRINCE OF KINGDOM OF SAUDI ARABIA

MOHAMMED BIN SALMAN, was born on August 31 1985 and is married to Sara Bint Mashoor bin Abdulaziz Al Saud, he is the son of king Salman. A great leader who is currently making big changes in Saudi Arabia, I selected him as a good leader because I understand his charismatic leadership style and vision for the kingdom is very effective. We all know that Saudi Arabia is a big and rich country but if we further develop it will be richer country. MBS is currently making big changes which are very effective and helping the growth of the economy as well as the life of each and every Saudi.

The style being used is adopted from the western part of the world and combining with old traditions that the kingdom has already implemented, he is a charismatic leader style with that vision 2030 and his willing to take risks to achieve that and is very open to new ideas that will benefit the kingdom. I choose his style of leadership because I believe that the future will be better and the system he is running currently has been very effective even in our current situation that the world is facing with this pandemic. He still manages to proceed with his plans because of his readiness and well planned ideas. He can easily make the growth of the economy for the kingdom if he continues his good leadership.

The leadership that he is currently using is very effective, he can control the departments with good communication and very effective bond. We all know that all the leaders in the world are facing some controversies but MBS is not affected and doesn't bother with these issues. His focus on the main goal is his strength and will do anything just to be on the right track of his goal. The traditional leadership is still kept in his traits being strict and being practical is his new approach. The discipline that he is creating with his people is well appreciated by controlling the Royal Family and by stopping the illegal activities in the kingdom.

The personal style of MBS is very different to the past leaders of the kingdom, being open minded is the best trait that makes him different to others, adopting what he thinks is good to his country is his strength and adjusting to some old traditions and practice is his power. His plan of running his economy by the local people of Saudi will be effective if the support of his countrymen will follow. Educating his people is the greatness of MBS to reach his goal. I admire his leadership because we all know that MBS is the key to success of the kingdom and I see myself learning from him the personality and action to influence people to behave in certain ways for future, which creates a vision that make me believes that the future will be better.
