

Global Project Management

Prepared by Dr. Mohamed Hamouda

Introduction

Introduction

جامعة الجميع الذكية
EVERYONE'S SMART UNIVERSITY

Global Project Management

Prepared by Dr. Mohamed Hamouda

Introduction

جامعة الجميع الذكية
EVERYONE'S SMART UNIVERSITY

Introduction

Global Project Management

Dr. Mohamed Hamouda

- Credit Risk Manager with 15 years of experience in the finance industry, Skilled in Enterprise credit Risk Management.
- Corporate trainer of finance and credit in the National Bank of Egypt with 5 years of experience,
- Adjunct Finance Professor in Arab academy for banking 'financial science.
- Doctor of business administration - Cairo university- September 2019 - Major finance and investment.
- Certified Trainer-ESLSCA

1 – Course Description:

Global projects are inherently complex by nature; language, culture, and logistics are key issues. Global and megaprojects succeed if they are guided by leaders who can give the project team a clear vision, keep various stakeholders engaged, and communicate well with the entire global-project team. Global PM leadership requires adapting the organization and projects to work effectively in a multicultural environment.

1 – Course Description:

Managing inter-organizational relationships, constructing a budget, managing overly complex projects, program management, and related topics are covered here. including the Global Project Leadership, Stakeholders and Communication Channels, Global Communication Strategy, Global Communication Techniques, Global Project Structure, Selection of International Human Resources, Global Program and Project Offices, Global Collaborative Networks, Knowledge Sharing, Collaborative Project Management, Implementation Strategies, International Project Management

2. Course Objectives:

Upon completion of this course, students should be able to:

- Evaluate the impact of contextual factors such as a client's organizational culture, needs, risk tolerance, and project size on tools and methods of PM.
- For projects with multiple cultures and languages in large-scale, global environments across time zones, recommend appropriate approaches for managing communications, teams and their motivation, meetings, cross-functional teams, matrix management, and virtual team environments.

2. Course Objectives:

Upon completion of this course, students should be able to:

- Given project objectives for certain projects of varying scale, geographic dispersion, and complexity, construct a PM plan that can achieve these objectives while mitigating the potential risks inherent in large, complex, widespread, and intercultural projects
- Given a global project context, which includes a plan, cost, schedule, and deliverable metrics, analyze the project data, classify various project expenditures as capital or operational, and recommend approaches for funding the project.
- Compare the communication and management tools, methods, and approaches that could be used in projects in which team members are co-located versus those in which they are not.

3 – Course Outline:

- Global Project Leadership
- Stakeholders and Communication Channels
- Global Communication Strategy
- Global Communication Techniques

3 – Course Outline:

- Global Project Structure
- Selection of International Human Resources
- Global Program and Project Offices
- Global Collaborative Networks

3 – Course Outline:

- Knowledge Sharing
- Collaborative Project Management
- Implementation Strategies
- International Project Management

4- List of References:

- The main material and reference for each course will be the textbook mentioned in the course specifications. Lecture notes and slides are additional resources that are prepared by the professor.

Required Textbook: Global Project Management: Communication, Collaboration and Management Across Borders by Jean Binder