As a PM, I should start with reviewing the parts that the main task is requiring to follow the company's rules (OPA) to establish a communications management plan, I and the team must decide what communication method to proceed with (email, Microsoft teams, written ...etc. if the way is not established before) and it should be the acceptable way of encoding, transmitting, decoding and the acknowledgments of the communications for the whole project to have a clear precise flow of information between team members. The way to create, gather, store, retrieve and dispose of the information about applicants must be established with criteria for the jobs to filter for less resource allocating. Monitor and control the communications in the project must be established with individuals having clear roles and responsibilities (i.e. RACI, RBS ..etc.) to reach the goal of choosing the best new team members as best as possible.
