Best of luck..

Prophet Mohammed (Peace be upon him)

My chosen leader is prophet Mohammed (Peace be upon him), he is the last god messenger as per Islam religion. He was born in Makkah and raised under the care of his grandfather and uncle after that. So, he was orphan with no siblings and known as “Truthful honest”. He worked as herdsman and merchantman later. Accordingly, I have chosen him despite all the current leaders now days because he has a huge impact on me personally regardless the religion, and I believe if we follow his way and messages in our daily life habit, and behaviors we will success and survive in every aspect!

His leadership style is Charismatic which explained and justified all his traits, he was known as truthful and honest which helped him to be believed when he started his first message from god. He has a clear vision and believe in his message from god, and the courage to have all the risks to face his community to achieve his goal to spread his message and influence people to be Muslims. And he could do all this and had little followers at the beginning, but they were many and many at the end.

I was kid when I used to hear many stories about prophet Mohammed (Peace be upon him) but till now one story keep popping up on my mind when prophet Mohammed was in upset why his people does not want to follow his order to shave their heads and slay so he asked his wife what to do and her suggestion to him was to stop asking from them and to do the shave and slay in front of them quietly. She believes in his influence and power on other people and exactly that what was happened! They fellow him and did what he has done with no question. This situation has inspired me and let me know that the core of power not in the form of force put in the form of influence. Not to be tough but how to be soft and strong.

I found myself as a Charismatic leader what I believe is a god gifted skill need to be maintained and guided to work out well. I like to lead people by letting them feel they chose to do thing because they believe in it too, it is our own shared goal and all of us will achieve it together. Gaining their trust is not easy to handle and I am her for them as well. This has helped me a lot when I was college student, I sued to be the project leader who everyone like to work with her knowing that the experience will be good, and the grade will be excellent too.
