Instructor's Name: Dr. Merna Emad

Read the story below and, as you evaluate the passage below, consider whether this behavior is appropriate for this professional context.

Mark is a top-performing salesperson at a pharmaceutical supply company. As a reward for his performance, he is treated to a trip to the corporate office in California to meet the chief executive officer, Ms. Mills. Ms.

Mills is known around the office as the “Wicked Witch of the West” because of her short and sometimes abrasive demeanor. Mark’s coworkers share “horror stories” of their encounters with her, stating that she rarely makes eye contact, never smiles, and dislikes being approached unless she initiates the conversation.

Although he is excited to travel, he is also nervous about what he and Ms. Mills might talk about. He prepares by thinking about how he can share his sales strategies and techniques. On the day of the meeting, he waits patiently for Ms. Mills’s assistant to call him into her office. When he is escorted in to meet her, he is shocked to see a petite woman behind the large desk smiling back at him with kind eyes. He approaches, shakes her hand, and waits for her permission to sit. Ms. Mills is nothing like the horrible person they made her out to be. Ms. Mills asks Mark several thoughtful questions about why he is successful, ways the staff can be supported, and how the company fits in with his professional goals. Mark feels more and more comfortable as she leans forward to listen intently to what he is saying. Mark loosens his tie, crosses his legs, and begins sharing stories of how he feels his immediate supervisor has dropped the ball on more than one occasion and that the team would be better if more money were allocated to incentives and bonuses. Mark immediately sees Ms. Mills’s eyes begin to squint and her brow furrow.

She stands up abruptly and says in a gruff voice that their time is up and that her assistant will show him out.

Answer the following question accordingly:

1. Given the professional context, what would you have done the same and/or differently if you were in Mark's position?

. I will sit in normal and will not talk anyway about my immediate supervisor, and also I will ask for incentives and bonuses after I evaluate her reaction.

2. Do you think Mark accurately evaluated the context? Why or why not?

No , coz of :

as I think mark didn't do the right thing during the meeting

First thing: is crosses his legs in front of the chief executive officer.

Second thing : he defamed the immediate supervisor & it is not a communication ethics to defamed your supervisor .

3d thing : he directly asked for incentives and bonuses .

3. What communication factors led to the change in the chief executive officer's disposition?

In my opinion :

the verbal Communication represented in his way of talking about the immediate supervisor and asking for incentives and bonuses.

And nonverbal communication represented in his way of sitting.

4. How could the KEYS process help Mark improve his communication skills?

His communication interaction looking to his own verbal and non verbal cues. Sitting, talking .

Step back and reflect

It encourages him to examine the effectiveness of verbal and nonverbal messages he convey to others and the overall success of various communication interactions .
