For developing a new workforce recruitment as well as selection procedure, I would plan to meet weekly with my team members by conducting a regular meetings where they would feel comfortable to openly communicate with each other and me as well regarding the progress of the project, challenges they are facing and queries if they have. Moreover, I would manage an additional lines of communication for my team members that would facilitate direct conversation through fast formal and informal chat regarding achieving deliverables. Furthermore, by giving importance to the team members in the hiring developing process would motivate team member as they feel more valued which is very beneficial to enhance their productivity.

Finally, I would provide feedback to team members about their performance to make them clear that either they are on the right track or not. It would be helpful to enhance their self-confidence and motivation level.
