VOCABULARY

Describing people

Match the statements (1–10) to the adjectives (a–j).

They ...

- 1 like to spend time with other people.
- 2 want to reach the top in their career.
- 3 have a lot of new ideas.
- 4 do what they promise to do.
- 5 are usually calm.
- 6 spend a lot of time doing a good job.
- 7 like to be on time.
- 8 encourage other people to work well.
- 9 are good at making things work.
- 10 like to do things for other people.

They are ...

- a) ambitious.
- b) creative.
- c) hard-working.
- d) motivating.
- e) helpful.
- f) punctual.
- g) relaxed.
- h) sociable.
- i) practical.
- j) reliable.

B Use adjectives from Exercise A to complete this human-resources report.

Maria Karlsson

Maria is good in a team and she gets on well with her colleagues. She is extremely *sociable*¹.

She is never late for meetings – she is always *punctual*². She is very *reliable*³; she always meets deadlines. She is in the office at 8.00 a.m.

every day and usually stays late, so she is very *hard-working*⁴. Her boss says this is very *motivating/helpful*⁵.

to others. Her colleagues have a lot of respect for her work and attitude.

She is also a very *creative*⁶ person with a lot of good ideas for the future of the company.

LISTENING

Managing people

A

 CD2.1 Ros Pomeroy, a management consultant, talks about the people she likes to work with. Listen to the first part of the interview. Which adjectives from Vocabulary Exercise A does she mention?

creative hard-working reliable

 CD2.2 Listen to the second part of the interview and answer these questions.

1 Why did team members hide information from one bad manager?

Because the manager often criticised members of the team in front of others

2 Why were the team members not prepared to take any risks?

Because they know that, if something went wrong, the manager wouldn't support them

CD2.3 Listen and complete the final part of the interview.

Well, luckily, I have met and worked with several good managers, and these are people who are willing to delegate; that is, they will give a task....¹ to a team member to get on and complete². They are less involved³ in how a task is done, but they are clear about setting the objective⁴ and being clear about what results...⁵ they expect.

And a good manager will also give praise...⁶ and feedback⁷ to a team member when they do a good job.

Answer these questions in pairs.

- 1 What kind of people do you like working with?
- 2 What kind of people do you not like working with?

LANGUAGE FOCUS 1

Past simple: negatives and questions

- For negatives and questions in the past simple, we use the auxiliary did (didn't) and the infinitive form of the verb.
You didn't like your colleague.
Did he leave the company?*
Why did he leave the company?
- Note the form with the verb to be.
He wasn't good at his job.
They weren't happy at work.
Was Dan efficient?*
When were they in France?

7 Past simple: negatives and questions; question forms

Past simple: negative statements

We use did not / didn't + infinitive without to to make negative statements about the past.

Form

I went by train.	I didn't go by train.
She saw you.	She didn't see you.
They had a very good time.	They didn't have a very good time.

Past simple: questions

We make questions about the past with did/didn't + subject + infinitive without to.

Did you check the figures? Did they have a good time? Didn't Paul tell you?

Question forms

Questions with to be

To make questions with the verb to be, we put the subject after the verb.

Was he at the meeting?

Were there any messages for me?

Were they pleased?

A Put these words in the right order to make sentences about problems at work.

1 the deadlines / the projects / weren't / for / realistic
The deadlines for the projects weren't realistic.

2 most people / the office / didn't / leave / until 8 p.m.
Most people didn't leave the office until 8 p.m.

3 a / manager / good / wasn't / she
She wasn't a good manager.

4 on time / start / meetings / didn't
Meetings didn't start on time.

5 didn't / she / to motivate / know / the staff / how
She didn't know how to motivate the staff.

Correct one mistake in each line of this message.

Maris, I'm sorry. I'm having a bad day. I didn't ~~sent~~ the report out, and ~~I not~~ check the figures. I didn't get to the bank on time, and I didn't ~~phoned~~ the suppliers. I tried to call you this morning, but ~~you not~~ answer. I think I need to go home.

1 ...send...

2 ...didn't...

3 ...phone...

4 you didn't

Complete these questions with did, was or were.

- 1*Was*..... he an efficient manger?
- 2 When*were*..... you born?
- 3 When*did*..... Ania start to work for IBM?
- 4 Why*did*..... Marcus change jobs?
- 5 Where*was*..... your next job?

E Read the extract below. Then write questions using each of the words from the box.

Where did Danielle grow up?

Andrea Jung

Before you read the article below, discuss these questions.

- 1 What famous businesswomen do you know?
- 2 What qualities do you need to be a successful business executive?

Women at the top: Andrea Jung

1 In 2011, Andrea Jung celebrated 12 years as Chief Executive of Avon Products. It is a big job. Avon sells cosmetics door to door in more than 120 countries. It has 6.2m sales representatives and a billion customers. It sells four lipsticks and 190 mascaras every second.

2 Jung was born in Toronto to Chinese immigrant parents. Her parents moved to the US when she was two, to get a better education for their children. She grew up in Massachusetts and graduated from Princeton. She speaks fluent Mandarin.

3 “My parents were important in forming my views about leadership,” she says. Determination is a strong quality in Chinese culture. In her early career, she had a job that wasn’t interesting. She told her parents she didn’t like the job and wanted to quit. ““Quit?” they said. ‘The Chinese don’t quit. You learn more from bad than good experiences – that’s how you grow.’”

4 Jung joined Avon in 1994. Four years later, she became Avon’s first female CEO. At that time, the company had revenues of $4bn. Today, its revenues are more than $10bn.

5 Avon is known as “the company for women”. Most of Avon’s representatives are women. About half the managers and four out of the nine members of Avon’s board are women. Jung says there are good business reasons for management teams with a mix of men and women. “In mixed teams, communication and decision-making are better.”

6 Famous for her long black hair, pearl necklaces and her passion for Avon, Jung is one of the world’s top business leaders. She is also on the board of GE and Apple.

Question forms

- We form questions which can be answered with yes or no in two ways.

With be or a modal verb
(e.g. can)

Form of be / modal verb

Subject

He is ambitious.

Is

he ambitious?

She can see us now.

Can

she see us now?

With all other verbs

Form of do (or other auxiliary)

Subject

Ana likes Madrid.

Does

Ana

like Madrid?

Joe left the company.

Did

Joe

leave the company?

- We begin other types of question with a question word such as why, where, when, how, etc.

	Question word	Form of do, be, modal or auxiliary	Subject
She works hard.	Why	does	she	work hard?
He went away.	When	did	he	go away?
They were stressed.	Why	were	they	stressed?

Questions with a modal verb

To make questions with a modal verb, we put the subject after the verb.

Can I see you now?

Would you like a coffee?

Question words: what, where, when, why and how

We put question words at the beginning of the sentence before a form of do, be, a modal or an auxiliary.

	Question word	Form of do, be , modal or auxiliary	Subject
I prepared some invoices.	What	did	you	do yesterday?
She went to Beijing.	Where	did	she	go?
They learned about it on Friday.	When	did	they	learn about it?
She needs a holiday.	Why	does	she	need a holiday?
She gets on very well with her colleagues.	How	does	she	get on with her colleagues?
It cost a lot of money.	How much	did	the machine	cost?
I see my suppliers once a month.	How often	do	you	see your suppliers?
I can do it next week.	When	can	you	do it?
He was happy.	Why	was	he	happy?

Be careful not to use two past forms in the same sentence.

Where did you stay? (NOT ~~Where did you stayed?~~)

Be careful with the word order. (NOT ~~Where did stay you?~~)

SKILLS

Dealing with problems

Work in pairs. Discuss which of these suggestions you agree with.

When two people try to solve a problem, it is a good idea for them to:

- 1 describe the problem in detail.
- 2 show strong feelings.
- 3 give reasons if they have to say no.
- 4 speak quietly.
- 5 find a solution immediately.

8  CD2.7 Julian works for a coffee importing company. He is talking to the Office Manager, Hanna Butler. Listen and answer these questions.

1 What does Julian want the company to do?

He wants the company to pay for his Spanish language lessons.

2 What does Hanna suggest to solve the problem?

She suggests he should buy a self-study course.

3 Does Hanna offer to give Julian any money?

No, but she tells him to bring her the receipt for his course.

 CD2.7 Listen again and complete these extracts.

Hanna: Look, I'm really sorry¹, Julian. The problem² is, we don't have enough money to pay for language courses.

Hanna: I'm sorry, Julian – it's just not possible³. Why don't you buy one of those self-study courses in Spanish? They're cheap⁴, and you can improve your Spanish a lot if you study hard⁵.

Julian: OK, I'll do that. Will the company pay⁶ for a self-study course if I buy one?

Hanna: I can't promise⁷ anything, Julian. But bring the receipt⁸ to me and I'll see what I can do for you.

Office workers share their problems and offer solutions

Background

A magazine, Business Today, has a message board on its website called Office Life. People who have problems at work can leave messages there, either online or by phone. Readers comment on the problems and give advice about how to solve them. Read the problems and discuss the questions below.

The screenshot shows a web browser window displaying the 'Office Life Message Board' on the 'Business Today' website. The browser's address bar is empty, and there are navigation buttons (back, forward, home, search) on the left. The message board has a blue header with the title 'Office Life Message Board' and the 'Business Today' logo. Below the header, there are two message boxes. The first message is from 'Susanna' and describes a problem with a colleague who is no longer helpful. The second message is from 'Thomas' and describes a problem with a lazy colleague who is taking over his sales. Each message box has a 'Comment' button at the bottom.

Office Life Message Board Business Today

I work in a small office with four other people. One of my colleagues was nice to me when I joined the company, but now she's changed completely. She's never polite to me and she doesn't help me in my job. She often 'forgets' to give me phone messages, so customers get angry with me. She says bad things about me to my colleagues and boss all the time. She shows no interest when I suggest ways to improve our website. I don't know what to do. Please help.

Susanna Comment

I work for a property company. One of my colleagues is really lazy. When customers come into the office, he tells me to note down all the details. Then, if the client is looking for a very expensive flat or house, he always takes them to see the property. He never asks me to take them. So his sales are much bigger than mine. Last year, he got a much bigger bonus than me. I wasn't happy about that. It's not fair because I do all the hard work. Our boss really likes him. She thinks he's a really good salesman.

Thomas Comment

7

Case study

- 1 How can Susanna deal with the problem?
- 2 Do you agree with Thomas that 'it's not fair'?

 CD2.8 Listen to a voicemail from Matthew, who called with a message for the magazine. What is his problem? Note down the key points and summarise the mistake that the Project Manager made.

Task

- 1 Work in pairs. Discuss the problems and decide what each person should do to solve them.
- 2 Join another pair. Share information about your decisions. Try to agree on the right decision in each case.
