Advanced Project Management

Instructor's Name:

Eng. Amaal Aburumman

A Project Manager

Project success depends on effective communication and effective communication relies on verbal and non-verbal body language that transmits a message while relying on cues for feedback.

If I was the project in this case, I would begin by ensuring effective communication throughout the whole project and team, I must develop a communication plan at the beginning stage of planning. The communication plan will contain the type of communication required during specific meetings, who needs to be communicated with, the frequency of communication needed, and the needs to be communicated.

I would ensure that all members can speak out loud about their opinions and put it in high consideration, whilst understanding their body language too. In terms of project problems, the fish bone diagram is essential in solving the causes for every problem or discuss other topics through infographics, linear/bar graphs, pie chart, comics, etc.
