

Abdullah Alshahrani

ID: 2021201963

PMG506

1 March 2021

Assignment 1

Manager are unique which responsible for coordinating and overseeing the project and everyday task. This position holds the importance for maintaining businesses to success and let the right people to know your aspirations as the way you think for the next step so they can help you get where you want to be.

As a manager must have to strengthen the skills in order to ensure you are prepared to step up to the skill that needed to acquire, be ambiguous in action and more valuable for that position and be prepared to setting up a meeting and be always prepared for a presentation that highlights for accomplishment and commitment.

Each accomplishment should have always provided with numbers to describe so that it can be easily to understand by the other listener. The most important thing must have always a confident to yourself as a good leader and be a motivator.