Advanced project Management

Instructions:

The project that I work on is the Riyadh Metro project, and I am an engineer specializing in building iron structures in the Riyadh metro train stations. This includes the railways and the supports for communication wires and the signals spread between the stations and trains to link the operators in all parts of the Riyadh Metro project.

The goal of the Riyadh Metro project, which has been in operation since 2016, is to reduce congestion in the city of Riyadh and provide citizens with a safe, easy and cheap means of transportation instead of cars.
