(Discuss the retaliation ship between Functions of Management and function of project)

(ناقش العلاقة بين وظائف الادارة ووظائف المشروع)

Answer:

The functions of Management is about planning, organizing, leading and controlling the organization goals where the function of project will have direct relation with product, marketing, human resources and finance with another mining the project In need of the functional department to support the project example:

In order for the project to deliver its goals it required the fund from the finance per se, and in order to provide the requirement from the human resources it required the human resources function department to support the project.

The finance department will play the role of controlling the budget of the project but without involving on the managing the project.

The below draw showed how the relation can meet between the project function and the function of the management:

Function management	Finance	HR	Marketing	Product	The relation
Project Management Functional	Controlling Funding the project	Supporting With resources	Advertising services	Production Where the deliverables expectation Meet to satisfaction from the delivered production	This point of cross showed how the project can managed with function relation from the organization
