As a Project manager of the local post mail distribution. I need to make a project where the goal is to develop a new staff recruitment and selection process when hiring people to work in a position of customer service. New processes need to be implemented within 3 months. In addition, Information that needs to be communicated is goals, pointers that we get from the center, and discussions we did with other staff and departments The team members of the project are drawn from different departments and include, finance, human resource, Logistics, Legal Officer, and Risk.

This project will be used every time Local post mail needs to hire someone in any vacancy position. the team and I set down together to specify the job vacancies that the center required. moreover, specify the job specification for each vacancy to post on the Center website later on. The purpose is to hire get less expensive, faster and to ensure that the best people for the job are chosen. The team and I have been met many times and we still require some resources to move at the required pace. We meet as a group every week on Tuesday. We keep communicating and consulting so frequently on E-mails and talk over the phone. We wish to express our fear however that we might not meet the deadline if the resources are not availed timely. We also recommend that we be facilitated by transport so that we can move around when it is necessary.

Sincerely,

Khalid Ahmed Alhazmi
