Basic Financial Statements

The Four Basic Financial Statements

Identify the income statement (Profit & loss)

Explain the statement of changes in owner's Equity.

Describe the classified balance sheet(Statement of financial position).

Identify Accrual Basis & Cash Basis and Cash flow statement.

The Four Basic Financial Statements

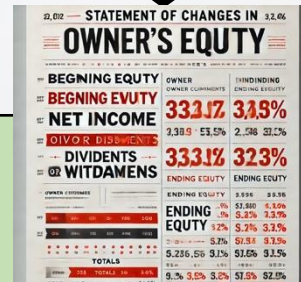

Financial Statements are prepared directly from the Trial Balance.

Companies prepare four financial statements:

Income Statement
(Profit & loss statement)

Period of time

Changes in owner's Equity
Statement

Period of time

Statement of Financial Position
(Balance Sheet)

Point in time

Statement
of Cash Flows

Period of time

Income Statement

- Reports revenues and expenses for a specific period of time
- Lists revenues first, followed by expenses
- Shows net income (or net loss)
- Does not include investment and withdrawal transactions between owner and business in measuring net income

Business Name.... Single-Step income statement for the year ended Dec. 31, 2024
Revenues :

Revenues and expenses determine if a net income or net loss occurs as follows:

- a. Revenues $>$ Expenses: Net Income(Profit).
- b. Revenues $<$ Expenses: Net Income (loss).

Changes in Owner's Equity Statement

- Reports changes in owner's equity for a specific period of time
- Time period is the same as that covered by the income statement

Statement of Financial Position (Balance sheet)

- Reports assets, liabilities, and owner's equity at a specific date
- Lists assets at top, followed by liabilities and owner's equity
- Total assets must equal total owner's equity and liabilities
- Snapshot of company's financial condition at a specific moment in time (usually month-end or year-end)

Accrual Basis & Cash Basis

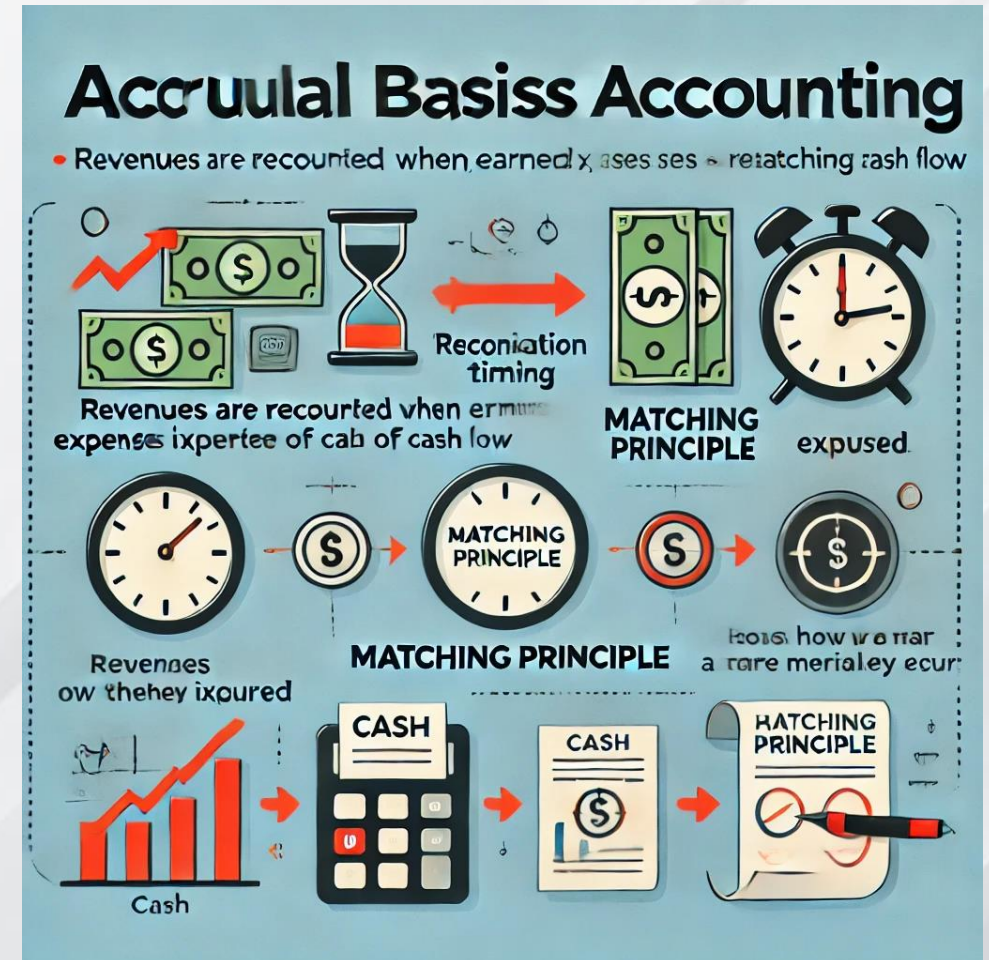

1. Accrual Basis Accounting:

• Recognition Timing:

- Revenues are recorded when earned, regardless of when the cash is received.
- Expenses are recorded when incurred, even if the cash hasn't been paid yet.

• Matching Principle:

- Revenues and expenses are matched to the period in which they occur, giving a more accurate picture of a company's financial performance.

Accrual Basis & Cash Basis

Cash Basis Accounting:

• Recognition Timing:

- Revenues are recorded only when cash is received.
- Expenses are recorded only when cash is paid.

• Simpler:

- This method is straightforward and easier to manage since it focuses only on actual cash flow.

Accrual Basis & Cash Basis

Aspect	Accrual Basis	Cash Basis
Timing of Revenue	Recognized when earned (before cash is received)	Recognized when cash is received
Timing of Expenses	Recognized when incurred (before cash is paid)	Recognized when cash is paid
Complexity	More complex, follows matching principle	Simple, focuses on cash inflows and outflows
Used By	Larger businesses, those following GAAP	Small businesses, freelancers, or cash-dependent

Question:

Company "Success" provided services in June worth $10,000. Half of the amount ($5,000) was received in cash in June, and the remaining amount will be received in July. The company also incurred expenses of $3,000 in June, which will be paid in July.

Based on accrual accounting, what is the net income for the company in June?

- A) $2,000
- B) $7,000
- C) $5,000
- D) $10,000

The correct Answer is b
