Types of digital marketing strategy

1. Search Engine Optimization (SEO)

Search Engine Optimization involves implementing techniques and strategies to enhance website ranking, visibility, and traffic in search engines.

Example: A finance company may improve its website content using relevant keywords like loans, investment to appear on the first page of a search engine.

2. Pay-Per-Click Advertising (PPC)

Pay-Per-Click, also known as Cost-Per-Click (CPC), is an online advertising model where advertisers pay publishers only when any users click on their ad.

Example: Advertisers may use specific keywords related to their products to target audiences on popular platforms like Google Ads, Facebook Ads, etc.

3. Content Marketing

Content marketing is creating, delivering, and sharing valuable and useful content to attract target audiences to increase brand awareness.

Example: An IT-based company can publish blogs, articles, videos, podcasts, and infographics to provide useful product information.
