

Abdullah Alshahrani

ID: 2021201963

PMG511

1 March 2021

Assignment 1

I'm prepared to be a good leader.

Second, Communication is the best way of reaching understanding of your team and sharing ideas how to cope up a good better results and applying plans to be able to discusses in order for building fully trust of your team. Yes, it is effective.

Next, more often this democratic leader style is most efficient used now a day due to businesses comes out and it always sharing information with employees about anything that affects their work responsibilities. They also seek employees' opinions before approving a final decision.

Finally, Personal leadership is the ability to develop and utilize your positive leadership traits to guide the direction of your life instead of letting time and chance determine your course. Personal leadership can begin when you decide to be your own life coach and live by a personal mission statement that reflects your values and life goals